

PROBLEM STATEMENT

- ❖ Analyse a dataset containing demographic and occupational information of individuals across multiple cities to identify trends in age distribution, gender representation, and common occupations. Gain insights into the workforce composition, regional variations, and potential correlations between age and occupation to inform strategic workforce planning and recruitment strategies.